Cards have enlarged characters which make them easier to see. Standard size card. Card has coating which makes it easier to deal and should extend card life. Includes rules and 2 score card templet. Made in Italy for US Game Systems.

I was looking forward to exclaiming "I am the Lizzard Queen" when playing, but then I realized that the game is called Wizard, not Lizzard. Oh well, it is still an awesome game. We play all the time. I will warn you that the score sheets are ridiculously tiny... break out some big people paper for scoring.

Love this game, Wizard. Am buying two more games for us, as one is worn out and want to keep one in the camper, so I don't leave home without it. Have also bought 3 games for 3 sets of friends. That way I didn't have to bring our game with us when asked over for supper and cards. If you like playing cards, you will love this game. Very similar to Up and Down the River , only with wild cards.

Wow do we love love this game. We couldn't find anyone to play bridge anymore, so this game has become our new favorite. It is easy to learn, and just so much fun as well as so challenging. I would think this game is better for adults or teens. A lot of strategy is used here.

I purchased these cards in February of this year and just opened the package to find that the deck is missing one Wizard card. this game is useless to me without the complete deck

Such a fun game!! Highly recommend for card players everywhere!! Beware: It's ADDICTING!!
Have fun playing friends! Cheers! :-)

Great game. A good substitute for Euchre.

A modernized version of a classic card game- the large text makes it easier to see on a large table.
