Fantastic teaching method used for many audition excerpts. Missouri All State Jazz Band auditions rotate through 4 of these standards (1 per year along with other materials). Even if not getting these for an audition the standard jazz literature in these methods is essential for the developing jazz musician. (Even if not from this text one should learn these tunes somewhere). The books can be used at home by yourself with included CD, or in a full class setting either with CD or having your rhythm section play the changes (provided you have one). If your rhythm section is too novice that's the beauty of these, use the tracks instead. The rhythm players can use these tracks to practice their own soloing which is difficult to do when all are learning their instruments still. When they can turn on the changes to play along with it helps them be able to focus more on their chorus and not staying with the unstable players struggling through their parts.

Wrong book. Husband will return it for refund and order correct book.
