Lottie Moon Audiobook: Giving Her All For China (Christian Heroes: Then & Now)

Synopsis

Ten-year old Lottie Moon had seen too much bitterness and gossip among churchgoers to want anything to do with religion or God. In fact, if there was a single way to waste a life, Lottie told herself, being a missionary was it. In a twist that only God could orchestrate, this spirited young girl who grew up to become the most educated woman in the American South would ultimately find her calling as a missionary to China. As Lottie watched her fellow missionaries fall to disease, exhaustion, mental breakdowns, and death, she became just as dedicated to educating Christians about the often preventable tragedies of missionary life as she was to educating Chinese people about the Christian life. The sacrificial service of the unforgettable Lottie Moon has inspired and enabled countless others to give their all for the dream of seeing the whole world reached with the gospel. Audiobook: CD format (4 CDs) Running Time: Approximately 4.58 hours. Read by Rebecca Gallagher. Ages 8-10-adult

Janet and Geoff Benge are a husband-and-wife writing team with more than twenty years of writing experience. Janet is a former elementary-school teacher. Geoff holds a degree in history. Originally from New Zealand, the Benges spent ten years serving with Youth With A Mission.

The first few chapters tell of (Charlotte's) Lottie's life in the Plantation South of the 1840s thru 1860s. That in itself is so interesting - the story of women's rights, plantation ownership, life views. Lottie lived a fascinating life. I think you will find this book very interesting.

The biography of Lottie Moon is very interesting and challenging. She worked hard for China.

This is a book full of ideas on how to make China and Lottie Moon real to children. I am really happy to have bought this book.

As a Southern Baptist, I had always heard of Lottie Moon, but never actually heard the story of Lottie Moon and her life as a missionary. Great read! This was a very easy read and is something that I can read aloud to my children until they are old enough to read it on their own. I would say, read aloud to children age 6 and up. Easy read for adults, you won't be able to put it down!

Before I read this book my image of Lottie Moon was simply of a virtuous woman who served Jesus in China. Since reading the book I learned she was a genius with a brilliant brain who was very bold, outspoken, and brave. She was extremely loyal to her Saviour and couldn't understand why most people weren't willing to serve the Lord like she did.

The story of Lottie Moon is the story of how a barking dog and a skeptic ultimately led to the motivation for the Southern Baptist Convention to touch China and the world with the Gospel. This book was what I needed to motivate me to give more to missions. It was one of the most inspiring books I have ever read outside of the Bible.

I really enjoyed this account of Lottie Moon. I never knew her story but had only heard her name. This book does a good job of putting flesh and bones on her.

I had never heard of Lottie Moon but this is a very moving biography of the most highly educated woman in the South back in her day. It's hard to imagine leaving the USA for China back in the day when so little was known about it and how far away it was. Highly encouraging, engaging read!
