A Divine Accident: A Memoir Of Life, Love And Learning

Synopsis

With a childhood spent in Hollywood, a father who is beloved by the entertainment elite, and all the shiny things money can buy, Carol Sorkin Hunter's life should be a fairy tale, right? Yet the shadows that lurk behind Hunter's life mean she's living in a nightmare she alone truly understands. A freak experience at a young age triggers a personal journey she could never have predicted. As Hunter navigates the dark corners of the human experience, slipping into the murkiness of hopelessness and the terrifying realm of poverty, she realizes she has no idea where to turn. A Divine Accident is the touching and inspiring true story of one woman's refusal to give up on herself when the world around her seems to have already done so. As she finds love and grace, Hunter slowly and surely begins to finally discover who she is. With a heart full of unshakable faith, determination, and resilience to discover herself, Carol Sorkin Hunter uses her own experiences to inspire others. A Divine Accident: A Memoir of Life, Love and Learning reminds us all that the true fairy tales in life are often the ones we write ourselves.

Artist Carol Sorkin Hunter's work not only spans artistic genres, it also crisscrosses the globe. Ms. Hunter was born on Long Island, New York, but grew up in California. She studied at the Art Center in Los Angeles and then traveled extensively throughout Europe, specifically to Rome where she spent an extended period of time. Over the past thirty years, She has put together an extensive portfolio of work, using a wide variety of media to highlight her talent for art. Ms. Hunter has been married to R. Ian Hunter, a Michigan attorney, since 1979. They currently live in Bloomfield Hills and are parents of twin daughters: Lisa, an art therapist, and Jennifer, a psychologist. In addition to her artistry, she is an Emeritus Science of Mind Practitioner who lectures for the Science of Mind Church, composes music, and travels.

This is a heartwarming story of a woman with an artist's sensibilities who faced challenges that will be all too familiar to many: the pressures of a looks-centric culture (amplified in Hollywood) which drove self-image issues, particularly with weight; divorce and single parenthood foisted upon a talented artist with little practical experience in providing for young children... subjects that touch thousands upon thousands of women. Carol Sorkin Hunter was able to overcome her issues, and in doing so, meet her Prince Charming, living happily ever after. A deeply spiritual woman, Hunter is driven to share her steps to success with others, hoping to inspire them to reach for their own goals. This is an uplifting book, and well worth the read.

The story of Carol Sorkin Hunter was written so delicately and beautifully. From the beginning it clutches you in a fashion that you just can't put down the book. Her sensitivity that she acquired from all her life learning's is something we can all become skilled at. Her discoveries about herself took time, but somewhere in her soul she had some sort of patience that kept her going. No matter your gender, this book is a must read

It is not often that a friend of yours writes a book and has it published. It is a difficult thing to do, but when the book is actually worth reading, that is a MARVEL. Carol's book grabs your attention and the story carries you quickly along on an interesting adventure through her childhood and early adult life. There is something for everyone in this book as she overcomes sugar addiction and several other unfortunate obstacles that could have destroyed many; but her belief in the power of prayer and a strong mind is the Divine Accident.

Wonderful book! Carol Sorkin Hunter describes the trials and tribulations of her life's fascinating story, starting with her Hollywood childhood, with such warmth, sense of humor and emotional depth that it's difficult to put the book down. From her experiences, wisdom, faith and self-help, she brings inspiring, helpful and motivational ideas for everyone. A must read!

"A Divine Accident" is a wonderful book. Could not put it down, once I started to read it. Everyone has issues that they have to deal with, which are often hidden from family and friends. Carol shows us how to never give up on ourselves, and with prayer and our own positive actions we can make changes in our own lives.

I absolutely loved this book. Enthusiastically written to transform your life, accomplish your goals, and achieve your dreams. This is a must read for anyone who wants to live life to the fullest.

A memoir of a life discovered, realized and fulfilled as told through the voice of the woman who lived and is living it. Divine Accident a testament that the glory-gifts of love, peace, and joy are possible through unshakeable faith.

Inspiring, readable, informative
