Home: Escondido, California The design team of Jean Leinhauser and Rita Weiss are two of the most respected authors in needlework today, having authored more than a dozen books on knitting and crochet.

Its not as interesting as the Knitting one was. I guess there isn't much one can do to crochet to really get a good variety that shows up on a project. The Calendar itself is well made and has a good index. As I try each pattern I mark the index to show which ones I really liked. Great gift for anyone who likes to Crochet.

I have been looking for the book for a while. I love to crochet and design new things. All I needed was a stitch design and BINGO! A new design stats to develop.

Wonderful to have all these stitches in one handy book! Not light weight, but thorough. Well worth the OOP price.

A handy format for reference, even though it duplicated The Big Book of Stitches by the same author. I love browsing through all the different stitches to find a "new" one to try.

This perpetual calendar is just wonderful! Not only do you learn a new stitch everyday, but the directions in the front give you the numbers you need to start an entire project with this stitch. It tells how many chains to use for the repeat of the stitch and everything you need to crochet a successful project using the stitch. The paper is sturdy and it has a tent stand so it will stand up on its own. I have it right by my computer. I just love it!!

It is rare to find a stitch book or calendar with stitches that have not been repeated in several other places. The stitches here are different and the few I've tried look amazing and are fun to learn. The layout and size make it easy to read and follow. My only thought would be to have some background on the stitches. It would be cool to know where they originated. These ladies have created a wonderful addition to my crochet library. I just love it!

The stitches in this book are so beautiful. A must for any crocheter

Had some trouble following the directions for some of the stitches it has. But that may be because I am not experienced enough.
