Kathleen Karr - Children's Literature The "Amazing Machines" collection for tots covers vehicles that roar and grunt, fly and sail, or merely shove and carry. Done up in tidy verse with characters that borrow quite a bit from Richard Scarry, the page-turners are colorfully illustrated and sport reinforced binding with a fair amount of wear in it. Rabbit, Bird, and Mouse strut their stuff on the farm using the plow, the harrow, the roller, the seed drill, the mower, and the bailer. For grain crops they demonstrate a combine. Then there is the fun of hauling the harvest to market. A one-page picture dictionary completes the package. The set should be just the ticket for the nursery school market. 2003, Kingfisher, Ages 3 to 5. Children's Literature The set should be just the ticket for the nursery school market. Great book !!

My 3 year old grandson loves this entire series of books! Perfect length as far as reading time, and my son in law says they are very accurate!

We bought this book for our grandchildren and they love this book. We ended up buying several of the same type of books with different themes, like buses; fire trucks, diggers, etc. I would recommend these books especially for the price. We love them!!

My Grandson just turned 3 & he has most of the Tony Mitton series of books. His favorites are Tough Trucks & Dazzling Diggers. He seems a little bored & distracted with this one I think he'll like it better when he's a little older.

My 2 year old son loves these books and is always wanting to read them again.

My three year old son loves this whole series of books. The tractor book, in particular, has educated all of us! Super cute rhymes, fun, bright pictures, and a last-page glossary of some of the jargon.

Toddler boys love it!

My 2 year old son loves tractors, and we love reading to him. This book is one of his favorites. He loves looking at the parts of the tractor, and I like that its a bit more colorful and cute than some of his nonfiction tractor books. Its true that the rhymes in this text are a bit difficult compared to some of the other books, but its probably his favorite. I think I will buy this as a gift book for other children with similar interests! His other favorites from this series are Dazzling Diggers and Terrific Trains.
